Lafourche Parish Sheriff's Office website

Neighborhood Watch is one priority of Lafourche Parish Sheriff's Office, LA (LPSO), the men and women of the Sheriff's Office view it as an essential component of a great crime fighting and prevention endeavor. The mission and goals are simple for the office -mobilize a community and empower its' citizens to re-establish control of their neighborhoods. In addition to the common services offered by most Neighborhood Watch programs such as community education on crime prevention and the McGruff projects, the LPSO offers Rape Aggression Defense (RAD) for women and children, child fingerprinting and DNA swabbing, CPR and First Aid Classes, firearms safety courses, neighborhood beautification events, and any "on-demand" program needed by a neighborhood watch group. One of the many unique services of the LPSO Neighborhood Watch program is the "Meet & Greet" socials where block captains from various groups come together to network and exchange ideas to help improve the communities of Lafourche.

Hermiston Police Department website

The Hermiston Police Department (HPD) consists of 23 sworn officers and has been working to implement technology to better serve its citizens. In 2007, HPD worked with representatives from numerous agencies on 111 projects in the community. The department gave 67 presentations ranging from drug awareness, gangs, bicycle safety, gun safety, CPTED, identity theft and much more. The department's crime prevention unite also facilitated monthly meetings where members from each Neighborhood Watch Group and the general public were able to meet with City and Department leaders to address community concerns. Open lines of communication have allowed the department to expand its Neighborhood Watch program and directly lead tot eh reduction of crime rates in the community.

Toledo Block Watch website

Started in the early 1980's, the Toledo Neighborhood Block Watch, OH went onto bring community policing to the City in the mid-1990's. The mission of the group is to form a partnership with community volunteers to create safer and more wholesome neighborhoods. According to Sheriff Teib, "Boots on the Street" and strong-built partnerships are the cornerstones of what has allowed the Toledo Neighborhood Block Watch Program to be so successful over the years. The Toledo Neighborhood Block Watch Program is a community partnership involving neighborhood volunteers, law enforcement, and other community services.

Waste Watch Programs website Facebook Twitter

The Waste Management Corporation (WM) has developed an innovative and productive program called Waste Watch. Waste Watch is a Neighborhood Watch type program. The program trains drivers of their refuse trucks to observe, detect, and report criminal and public safety issues to local police. WM Corporate Security Services and Community Relations organizations initiated this program in 2004 to leverage the geographic reach and presence for its drivers in the communities they service. In a true public-private alliance, WM staff partner with local community officials to be the eyes and ears on the streets to identify and communicate problems in the community. The Waste Watch program allows WM drivers, helpers and dispatchers to support and assist public safety officers to more quickly respond to problems in the community. The program is national in scope but relies on relationships that are created locally.
